In FY 19/20, the total number of permanent licenses/certificates issued increased by 1.6%, with the average days to issue a permanent license/certificate rising by 7%. A permanent license/certificate may be issued once all requirements are met, including a completed background check, which is usually the last application requirement to be completed. Background checks are processed by DPS and can take up to a couple of months to be received. The timeframe to issue a temporary license/certificate decreased by 26% and the total number of temporary licenses/certificates issued decreased by 1%. Endorsement applicants are eligible for a temporary license if they meet the practice requirements and hold a license/certificate in another jurisdiction. An exam candidate is only eligible for a temporary license after they have passed their exam, which is why the timeframe is significantly higher. Also, many exam candidates are not issued a temporary license/certificate; by the time they exam, they have completed all other application requirements and are eligible for a permanent license/certificate.
